

Essence Way of Working

Group 4

Shortly after the formation of the project groups, we held an initial meeting. During this meeting we discussed and agreed upon many of the aspects related to the states.

As of now, after assignment 1 has been completed, we have identified that we are hovering around step 2 and 3. We have set up clear conventions and guidelines for how we work with documentation, formatting, version control etc., but we have still not integrated these conventions and guidelines enough to consider ourselves to be in step 4. As an example to illustrate this, our git history was not as clean as we had hoped it would be due to branch merging commits not being linked to certain issues. This was a misunderstanding within the group, and should not be a problem for the second assignment.

In order to reach the next step of the way-of-working model, we think we just need some more time to make mistakes and learn from each other.
